WINE HOST BIO

BRAM BOLWIJN, Guest & VIP Experience Manager

Bram developed an early interest in the hospitality industry back in his home country, the Netherlands, where he studied Tourism and Hospitality in post-secondary education. Following his studies, Bram worked in various local restaurants and quickly began to discover the jewel that is the world of wine. His ambition brought him to Bordeaux, France where he would spend the next 2 years completing his Sommelier Accreditation, after which he would then gain experience working in Michelin Star restaurants. These actions ultimately prepared Bram with an unparalleled ability to deliver exceptional wine and hospitality service.

Bram set his eyes on his next adventure in the Okanagan Valley in British Columbia, Canada. Even though his love for wine belonged to the old world, Bram knew that breaking away from the traditional old-world style for the innovative new-world style would provide him with the juxtaposition he was searching for.

Since joining Iconic Wineries of British Columbia, Bram has prided himself as an ambassador for the Canadian wine industry. He utilizes his wine knowledge and work experience to share the unique story of Canadian wines. One of his greatest achievements thus far in the Okanagan Valley was being awarded a BC Tourism Industry award under the category of Customer Service in 2018.

As a young leader working in the wine and tourism industry, what most excites Bram about the future in the Okanagan Valley is that there are so many more opportunities for him to deepen his roots in the valley, which he believes is just like a young grape vine would feel.
